Cyberattacks on the Rise: Be Vigilant and Be Prepared!

The U.S. is currently at increased risk for cyberattacks, and all healthcare systems are on high alert. The Garnet Health IT team does an excellent job of protecting our network and infrastructure, but they need YOUR help to ensure our safety and the safety of our patients!

Please practice the following regularly to keep yourself and Garnet Health safe from a hacker:

- Treat every email with suspicion.
- Pay attention to the “FROM” email address, especially if an email looks odd.
- Never click on a link or download a document unless you are 100% certain that it is safe to open.
- ALWAYS forward suspicious emails to spam@garnethealth.org.

There are also things you can do to prepare if our computer systems become unavailable:

- Have contact information for all staff and vendors on paper in case files become encrypted.
- Print important documents that you may need to access.
- Review your downtime procedures.

If an IT security incident occurs, follow directions from the Incident Command Center and your supervisor.

Quality Corner

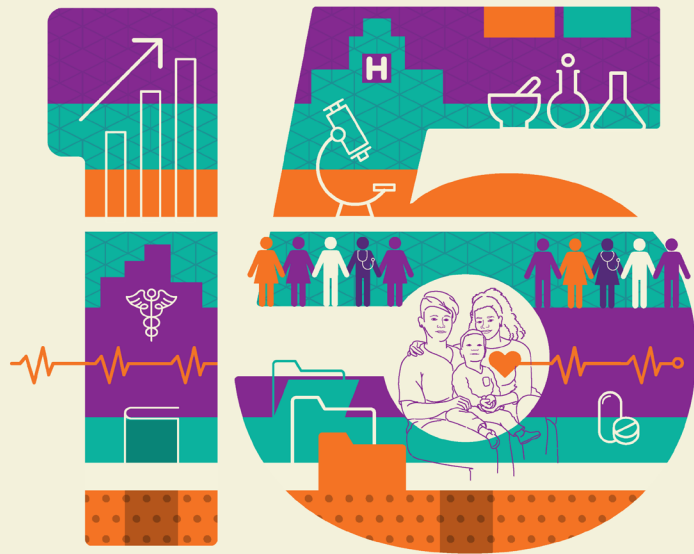

And the survey says...

We recently welcomed the DNV to conduct our annual survey at all three hospitals. The annual process ensures that actions initiated in response to survey activities are making a difference in the care provided to patients. Thanks to COVID-19, it was another challenging year, but again we demonstrated our ability to push through as a team to achieve our goals. Overall, our surveys were excellent! Some positive comments:

- Surveyors were very impressed with our organization. The Life Safety Surveyor noted our hospitals to be the cleanest and shiniest he's ever seen.
- Many noteworthy efforts were identified, such as nutrition services, infection control, medical staff credentialing, sterile processing, staffing, nursing documentation, care improvements.
- Surveyors were impressed with the overall quality management system. They were blown away with our use of ISO standards and noted two exceptional areas: people management and leadership commitment.

We will receive our formal reports shortly. Thank you for making our surveys a success! A big congratulations goes out to all clinical and nonclinical staff!

If you have questions about the 2022 DNV survey, contact Mary Ellen Crittenden at mcrittenden@garnethealth.org.

ON THE COVER:

This January, Garnet Health launched an art contest to showcase what an expression of diversity, equity and inclusion would look like in art form. After viewing several submissions, the Wellness Committee chose artwork by 3 South Nursing Assistant, Gabrielle Kolb.

Gabriella started painting as a hobby with her mother approximately four years ago.

She created her winning submission during COVID-19. When the call for artwork was announced, she felt that it was the perfect opportunity to give her painting a purpose. Thank you for sharing your talent and your beautiful work with us, Gabriella!

BEE

AWARDS

Buzzworthy: Compassion Takes Flight

GHMC 1st Quarter 2022 TEAM BEE Award

Jennifer Maloy, RN, and Joshua Reyes, RN, both of 2 South, were recently recognized as Garnet Health Medical Center's 1st quarter team BEE honorees.

Earlier this year, the 2 North Team was coping with the loss of a hospital family member. When a prayer and support service were organized for the 2 North staff, Joshua and Jennifer volunteered to cover care for the 2 North patients so that the 2 North Team could attend the service. The kindness and support that Jennifer and Joshua showed for the 2 North Team is a great example of how they care for everyone around them and put others' needs first. Thank you, Jennifer and Joshua! Your care and compassion for our patients and your colleagues is outstanding!

GHMC-C 2022 March BEE

Tad Neidnig, DI CT Tech at the Callicoon Campus, was chosen as Garnet Health Medical Center – Catskills' March Employee of the Month. Tad is known for his outstanding work ethic. According to his peers, he actively seeks work during his "downtime." On many occasions, Tad responds to the Emergency Room entrance bell when a new patient arrives and assists in removing him/her from their vehicle.

On February 15, 2022, Tad went above and beyond his normal "above and beyond." Around 6 p.m., the ER was hit by a sudden surge of patients. Providers were quickly inundated with caring for the new arrivals, and Tad jumped right in to help. He completed EKG's, assisted in getting patients in and out of beds, and even escorted one patient to the bathroom and back, all to free up the nurses to provide the necessary medical care. Tad's commitment to his patients, his co-workers and to Callicoon in general is significant and special. Thank you, Tad, for all you do! We appreciate you!

GHMC 2022 March BEE

Michael Musslewhite, Industrial/Commercial Mechanic in Maintenance, was selected as Garnet Health Medical Center's March Employee of the Month.

Michael is known for continuously working to keep things running smoothly in all the patient care areas. Recently, a steam shut down affected the sterile processing department and the OR. He immediately went to work, reaching out to the department leaders and coordinating a time to make repairs so that they would not impact patient care. Michael worked overnight, as to not affect the OR caseload and, ultimately, because of his quick work and communication, there was no impact to operations the next morning. Michael is a role model for others not only for his communication, but also for his integrity. He takes the time to understand processes and workflow, and works hard to make sure everything is compliant. Thank you, Michael, for your commitment to our departments and patient care, and for being such a great asset!
